A Word From Executive Director Paul Finnegan

Greetings and salutations to all our friends and supporters. All of a sudden, we find ourselves well into the second half of 2019, watching the seasons turn. But, the shortening days notwithstanding, we have scheduled a slew of exciting events and activities to carry us all through to the end of the year.

There is something to appeal to everyone at the New York Irish Center from September to December: concerts, plays, networking events, dancing, parties, get-togethers, camaraderie, classes—you name it. All are detailed in the pages of this fantastic program—our 13th such edition, a baker's dozen!—put together by our small and dedicated staff and ably assisted by our great volunteers. And let us not forget our partnership with Solace House, right here in our building. It all happens within our walls, a place we are proud to say now belongs to the entire community.

In these pages you will see an underlying theme in our guiding principles of Community, Culture, and Care; we are here for the more vulnerable among us, be it a senior that needs company, or a person who is simply downhearted and in need of friendship and hope.

Thankfully, there are many people keen to see us continue the work we do. This past year, we have benefitted greatly from the support of the Emigrant Support Program of Ireland's Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, and of the Irish American Caucus of the City Council, including that of the Speaker himself, along with funding through the Ireland Funds.

I cannot fail to mention the donations, large and small, that come directly to us from people like you, for which we are so grateful; these allows us to continue developing sustainable, much-needed community services that will see us through all times, good and bad.

If you haven't been to our Center yet, then you just might be missing out. I invite you to find something in these pages that appeals to you and come along! You won't be sorry. And if you are a regular, then keep coming. And welcome the newcomers, for you are the cornerstone upon which our community is built.

Paul Finnegan

Four-Week Introductory Creative Writing Course.

"I am convinced that most people do not grow up ... We marry and dare to have children and call that growing up. I think what we do is mostly grow old. We carry accumulation of years in our bodies, and on our faces, but generally our real selves, the children inside, are innocent and shy as magnolias." - Maya Angelou

Most great storytelling comes from experience. Meld that experience with the youthful exuberance that lives within you. Write your legend.

This four-week writing course will delve into the craft of writing a short story. We'll workshop, critique, and read each other's work in an honest and welcoming environment.

When the course is complete, we will bind and print the collection of short stories, for you and us to share.

Christmas Shoe Box Appeal

This magical effort has continued every year since 2012 because there is still a need for it. In 2019 we will continue this seasonal-relief effort by reopening our Shoebox Factory and bring a little joy to those in need of it most during the holidays.
